

Summer Short Courses at the Animal and Dairy Sciences Cluster, College of Agriculture UP at Los Baños for Calendar Year 2013

For those aspiring animal raisers and dairy enthusiasts, there are summer courses which one can avail for a reasonable fee.

Hurry up and be the first to take advantage of these rare opportunity. Hands on-experience will be a bonus for those early birds.

Knowledge learned will be your ticket to another alternative income. If you're a hobbyist, turn this into a golden opportunity to earn and learn.

LEARN and PRACTICE!

Below, are short courses for this month before the regular classes begins.

Beef Cattle Production and Management

May 14-17, 2013

Fee: P 2,000 per person

Min. Participants: 10

Coordinator: N.L. De Castro

Description: Principles of beef cattle production and management practices (stock selection, housing, feeds and feeding, disease prevention and control and economics of beef cattle production)

Basic Training Course for Dairy farm Workers

May 13-17, 2013

May 20-24, 2013

May 27-31, 2013

Min. Participants: 10

Fee: P 2,500 per person

Coordinator: M. S. Galang

Description: This course is a combination of lecture and practicum covering the basic topics on dairy production and management with more emphasis on animal care and milking activities for those who will be involved in actual farm work.

Goat Production and Management

May 20-24, 2013

Min . Participants: 10

Fee: P 2,500 per participants

Coordinator: M.S. Galang

Description: Principles of Goat Production, management of goat farms under Philippine conditions, breeding, feeds and feeding, herd health management, housing, economics of goat farming and goats meat and milk products.

Feed Quality Control

May 20-24, 2013

Fee: P 2,500 per person

Min. Participants: 10

Coordinator: N.L. de Castro

Description: Physical and chemical evaluation methods and techniques to determine the quality of feed ingredients

Ration Formulation

May 27-31, 2013

Fee: P2.500 per person

Min. Participants: 10

Coordinator: N.L. de Castro

Description: Principles involved in actual formulation of rations for livestock and poultry using most commonly available feed ingredients and actual least cost feed formulation using the computer.

Ching M. Lumanta

Information Officer for Luzon

May 14, 2013